21 June 2021

WE note that

• the 2030 UN Sustainable Development Goals 1 and 11 call for ending extreme poverty including homelessness, everywhere and ensuring access for all to adequate, safe and affordable housing.

• the Council invited Member States and the European Commission to “continue to design and implement measures acknowledging and addressing homelessness and promote access to affordable housing for all”\(^1\).

\(^1\) Conclusions on the Economy of Wellbeing (26 November 2019)

\(^2\) the European Parliament resolution of 24 November 2020 on tackling homelessness rates in the EU (2020/2802(RSP)) and most recently the European Parliament resolution of 21 January 2021 on access to decent and affordable housing for all (2019/2187(INI)
the European Pillar of Social Rights Action Plan\(^3\) envisages the launch of a European Platform on Combating Homelessness to support Member States, cities and service providers in sharing best practices and identifying efficient and innovative approaches.

In the Porto Social Commitment, the European Parliament, the Portuguese Council Presidency, the European Commission, EU social partners and the Social Platform have welcomed the European Pillar of Social Rights Action Plan and called on all relevant actors to join efforts to develop public policies that, at the appropriate level, strengthen social cohesion, fight against all forms of discrimination, including in the world of work, and promote equal opportunities for all, particularly also people experiencing homelessness.

the Porto Declaration expresses the joint commitment of EU Member States at the highest political level to reducing inequalities, defending fair wages, fighting social exclusion and tackling poverty, taking on the objective of fighting child poverty and addressing the risks of exclusion for particularly vulnerable social groups, including the homeless; and welcoming the new EU headlines targets on jobs, skills and poverty reduction.

WE acknowledge

- that homelessness is one of the most extreme forms of social exclusion, negatively affecting people’s physical and mental health, well-being, and quality of life, as well as their access to employment and access to other economic and social services.

- that the phenomenon of homelessness affects all Member States and has increased substantially over the last decade in the EU.

- that addressing homelessness requires an understanding of how different groups in communities are impacted, including children, youth, women, single parents and large families, older persons, migrants, ethnic minorities and other vulnerable groups.

- the importance of reliable data collection on homelessness, including youth homelessness, with the involvement of relevant stakeholders, allowing common understanding, systematic comparison and monitoring at EU level.

\(^3\) https://ec.europa.eu/social/BlobServlet?docId=23696&langId=en
- the complex root causes of homelessness, which include rising housing costs, insufficient supply of social housing stock or housing assistance, low income and precarious jobs, job loss, ageing and family breakdown, discrimination, long-term health problems and insufficiently prepared release from institutional settings.

- that the COVID19 pandemic has heightened the urgency of effective action to solve homelessness.

- the growing evidence about effective interventions to prevent and solve homelessness, such as housing-led approach.

- the importance of housing affordability for vulnerable groups and of social protection policies to guaranteeing a decent life, the role of the social economy and social services providers to address and prevent homelessness.

- the need for European policy support and coordination to promote progress, notably through mutual learning and support to collaboration.

WE agree to launch together the European Platform on Combatting Homelessness and to work towards the ending of homelessness by 2030, so that:

- no one sleeps rough for lack of accessible, safe and appropriate emergency accommodation;

- no one lives in emergency or transitional accommodation longer than is required for successful move-on to a permanent housing solution;

- no one is discharged from any institution (e.g. prison, hospital, care facility) without an offer of appropriate housing;

- evictions should be prevented whenever possible and no one is evicted without assistance for an appropriate housing solution, when needed;

- no one is discriminated against due to their homelessness status.

The European Platform on Combatting Homelessness will promote policies based on a person-centred, housing-led and integrated approach. It will:

- support mutual learning for policy-makers and practitioners;
• contribute to harness EU funding possibilities;
• strengthen evidence and monitoring on homelessness;
• disseminate and promote good practices, including through a European Prize;
• review progress towards the eradication of homelessness by 2030.

WE, the European Commission, will:

• support monitoring of homelessness, through the European Semester process and the Social Protection Committee, with a view to provide a quantitative and qualitative assessment of progress made;
• support mutual learning of good practices for combatting homelessness and explore further the implementation of successful existing models;
• promote the use of EU funding to support inclusive policy measures aiming at combatting homelessness;
• strengthen analytical work and data collection in order to promote evidence-based policies and initiatives addressing homelessness.4

WE, the European Parliament, will:

• take an active part in and host meetings of the European Platform on Combatting Homelessness;
• promote and support policies aiming at reducing poverty, especially among children and ending homelessness by 2030, and therefore, building on the actions announced in the European Pillar of Social Rights Action Plan, continue to work towards comprehensive European anti-poverty policies, pursuing the UN SDGs and helping achieve the EU 2030 headline poverty target.

4 in accordance with Regulation 019/1700 of 10 October 2019 establishing a common framework for European statistics relating to persons and households, based on data at individual level collected from samples
• continue closely following the evaluation of the use of relevant EU funding to address the problem and root causes of homelessness in the Union.

WE, national, regional and local authorities, will:

• promote the prevention of homelessness, access to permanent housing and the provision of enabling support services to the homeless;

• welcome the involvement of all relevant stakeholders in the design and implementation of these policy measures;

• support our policy measures with adequate funding and, when appropriate, make use of EU funding as a lever to improve the way we address homelessness;

• share our good practices in combatting homelessness.

WE, EU level civil society organisations and social partners, will:

• actively engage our members in the activities of the European Platform on Combatting Homelessness;

• continue to support our members in their efforts to combat homelessness;

• facilitate mutual learning and develop evidence on the best ways to end homelessness.

WE invite the rotating Presidencies of the Council:

• to convene at least biennial high-level meetings of the European Platform on Combatting Homelessness;

• to support efforts of all stakeholders, including non-governmental organisations, to combat homelessness.

WE invite stakeholders engaged in the fight against homelessness at European, national, regional and local level to undersign this Declaration.
